About the Event

The vision of our country for the Indian Knowledge System is to promote, preserve, and disseminate the “Indian Knowledge System” through further research, scientific validation, and societal applications.

The objectives of the seminar are

- To contribute to the exploration of the Indian knowledge system through research, teaching, documentation, and preservation of various existing knowledge in the discipline of arts and culture, science and mathematics, social sciences, economics, law, and linguistics.
- Preserving the Legacy: A look at India’s Geo-Heritage, Traditional Knowledge, and Geographical Indications.
- Revising Knowledge with Pertinent Scientific Validation and Authentication for Sustainable Future
- Indian Knowledge Systems as a Catalyst for Innovation Conventional Approaches, Empirical Validation, Case Studies, and Interdisciplinary Research

We are sure that the mission will conserve and scientifically validate the Indian Knowledge System for the welfare of human society and the environment. With this concept and hypothesis, our college has undertaken an initiative to adrenalize the academic fraternity through a two-days National Seminar.

About Bastar

Bastar, a scenic region in Southern Chhattisgarh, is known for its rich tribal culture, lush forests, and breathtaking landscapes. It is home to several stunning attractions, including the majestic Chitrakote Waterfall, often called the “Niagara Fall of India,” and the serene Tirathgarh Waterfall. The region also boasts fascinating limestone caves, such as Kutumsar and Kailash, along with the rich wildlife of Kanger Valley National Park. Bastar's spiritual essence is reflected in the revered Danteshwari and the ancient Narayanpal Temple. The cultural hub of Jagdalpur showcases vibrant Tribal Traditions, Exquisite Handicrafts, and the Grand Bastar Dussehra festival. With its mix of nature, history, and adventure, Bastar offers an unforgettable travel experience for tourists.

About the College

The Government Kaktiya PG College, established in 1960, gained autonomous feather in 2025. It is a premier institution in the Bastar region, catering to nearly 3000 students in the disciplines of Arts, Science, Commerce, and Law up to the Post Graduate level. Recently, our cap has been further supplemented with a Center of Excellence by the State Government and a Specialized Center for Artificial Intelligence. It is situated in the Dharampura 2 area of Jagdalpur city and has a good track record of producing Administrative Officers, Defense Personnel, Academicians, Scientists, and Politicians. Presently, the college is devoted to exploring the Indian Knowledge system through scientific vision and validation; screening of monogenetic diseases of the society; identification, characterization, and validation of lead molecules of plants used by traditional healers of the region; heavy metal analysis and its impact evaluation on human; environmental analysis and feasibility of skill development, internship, and entrepreneurship by using natural resources of Bastar, Chhattisgarh, India.
